

COMPUTER SERVICING CART

ABSTRACT

[0045] A computer servicing cart containing one or more battery servicing compartments or modules for charging and storing batteries for electronic devices, such as computers, cellular phones, and PDAs. One or more computer servicing compartments or modules for charging and storing electronic devices, such as computers, cellular phones, and PDAs. One or more internal power supplies selectively connectable to at external electrical outlet. A power shedding control circuit to prevent the cart from overloading an external outlet.